Dear Friends,

On behalf of the entire Colonial Performing Arts Center Team – from our talented staff and dedicated board of directors to our committed volunteer ushers – we say welcome back! Thank you for returning to the Colonial Performing Arts Center.

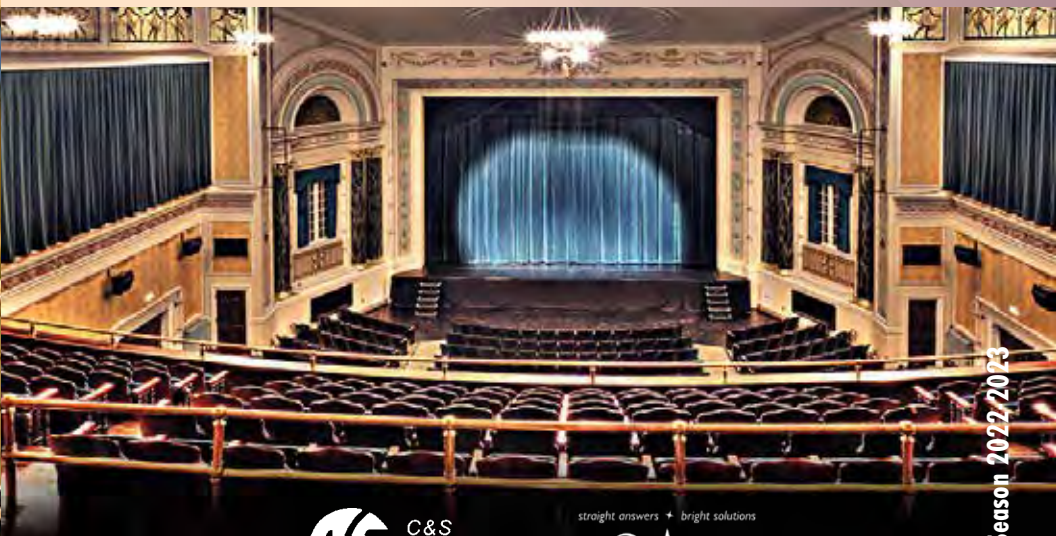

It feels nothing short of miraculous to be launching our 2022-2023 Season. We have endured the pandemic, canceled and rescheduled events and navigated the erratic return of in-person performances. We did this all while completing major renovations to our historic theatre and creating a new, flexible performance venue – SHOWROOM. We are grateful to you all for staying with us on our journey through the unknown.

And we now find ourselves with a renewed commitment to the transformative power of live performance. As you will see, we are bringing some exciting new performers and familiar friends. A reminder: keep your eyes open for new event announcements. With the addition of SHOWROOM, expect to see a greater diversity of programs added throughout the year.

There is much to be excited and thankful about. Please join us for a memorable favorite artist or explore something entirely new.

As always, I look forward to seeing you at The Theatre.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

The Colonial Performing Arts Center is a nonprofit organization entertaining more than 50,000 patrons annually (including 8,000 school children), with acclaimed film, music, theater and dance performances at two venues. The historic 900-seat theatre, built in 1924 and undergoing a major restoration in the 1990s, was named to the New Hampshire State Registry of Historic Places in 2004. A second round of major renovations has just been completed on the historic theatre, expanding the lobby area and adding functionality to the stage and rigging. The adjacent building for the new second venue, SHOWROOM, was purchased and renovated in 2020/2021.

Pursuing its vision to “be the model regional performing arts center; exciting, educating and challenging audiences of all ages,” the Colonial Performing Arts Center presents diverse and relevant programming, including its trademark live performance series, award-winning films, and innovative community outreach programs. Additionally, the organization plays host to numerous community events for the benefit of over a dozen local nonprofits each year.

A cultural anchor in the regional economy, the Colonial Performing Arts Center and its patrons contribute more than $4 million annually to the local economy through show and visitor-related spending. For more information, visit TheColonial.org.

The Next Act

THE CHALLENGES: Our programming and audience amenities have been restricted by the physical limitations of a theatre that was originally designed almost a 100 years ago for vaudeville productions and film.

SUCCESES: Despite the enormous impact COVID had on fundraising and construction, The Colonial persevered and made amazing strides during the 2-year COVID impacted period.

- The Colonial now features a spacious lobby, with ticketing and concession areas that offer a comfortable, ADA-compliant, welcoming experience for all patrons.
- Crucial enhancements have been made to the theatre's backstage area, including new rigging and staging technologies, a modern artist lounge, contemporary dressing rooms, and other world-class amenities that Colonial performers, students and community users deserve.
- We purchased a second building; and completely gutted and remodeled the structure into a wonderful new performance venue. SHOWROOM is a flexible space tailored for emerging performers, filmmakers, educational programming and niche genres.

PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

Setting the Stage for... The Arts A Vibrant Economy Our Community

- We successfully brought the project to completion on budget (within $5,000 of the projected $12,500,000).
- We have raised over 90% of our original capital campaign goal.
- We have opened both venues for performances and community use and the public response to our new facilities has been overwhelmingly positive.

FINAL STAGES OF THE CAPITAL CAMPAIGN: Help us close the funding gap brought on by escalating material costs and supply chain delays of the pandemic.

EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT PROGRAM

WHY EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT FOR THE COLONIAL?

Culture. The single word can define us. Give us a sense of belonging.

The dictionary definition of culture reads, “a particular form or stage of civilization, as that of a certain nation or period.” However, it is much more than the definition. This one word carries the power to engage, educate and enrich the quality of life. This one word gives meaning to our past, present and future.

One way the many unique aspects of various cultures can be shown is through artistic expression. Art is a universal language; it can bridge divides within a community. Art acts as a vessel to share stories, bring awareness and celebrate all cultures through music, dance, theater, film, and many more mediums.

The Colonial is passionately invested in the cultural health of our community through our commitment to providing community engagement for all ages, making the performing arts a vital and fundamental part of education. Our educational programs are designed to engage in the artistic process, cultivate appreciation for the performing arts and celebrate our diversity as a community.

“To Reach More, Serve More, Inspire More, and Just Live More”

Supaman’s one of a kind presentation combines Native culture, comedy and urban hip hop culture, dazzling audiences and captivating listeners.

UPSTANDER PROJECT FILMS

At SHOWROOM • October 30, 2pm • FREE

With Special Guest Speaker from Upstander Project

For decades, child welfare authorities have been removing Native American children from their homes to “save them from being Indian.” In Maine, the first official Truth and Reconciliation Commission in the United States begins a historic investigation. Dawnland goes behind-the-scenes as this historic body grapples with difficult truths, redefines reconciliation, and charts a new course for state and tribal relations.

At age two Georgina Sappier-Richardson was removed from her home and Passamaquoddy community in Downeast Maine by child protection services. She would never see her parents again. Terror and abuse followed over 16 years in four different foster homes. Dear Georgina follows this Passamaquoddy elder from Motahtkomikuk as she tries to fill in the blurry outlines of her identity.

I was not built merely of marble, mortar and steel;

I was born with a Heart, a Soul, and a Purpose, like yourself.

I am the creation of a mind on fire—

The disciple of a Dreamer with whom to dream was to do;

I am a reality loved into life.

I will receive you with the hospitality of a hostess in her home—realizing my responsibility in giving comfort, in refreshing, in throwing about you the mantle of protection and in entertaining you.

THEATRE VOCAB

CROSSOVER

A route leading from one side of the stage to the other, out of the audiences view. (Ever wonder how someone could exit the stage on one side and appear on the other?)

DARK

A time when the theatre is not open to the public. At The Colonial, this can mean being closed for a private event, rehearsal, or maintenance; typically, there are less than 20 dark dates per calendar year at The Colonial.

FOLLOW SPOT

Usually, a powerful profile lantern that can be fitted with its own dimmer, iris, colour magazine and shutters mounted in or above the auditorium, used with an operator so that the light beam can be moved around the stage to follow an actor.

DOWNSTAGE

The part of the stage nearest to the audience, or a movement towards the audience.

FLY

The action of lifting an item, like scenery, up (out) or down (in) when attached to the flying system.

GAFF TAPE

Ubiquitous, sticky, fabric-backed tape. Most common widths are 0.5" for marking out areas and 2" (usually black) for everything else. Used for temporarily securing almost anything. Originally known as Gaffer's Tape, from the Gaffer (Master Electrician) on a film set.

HANG

The "hang" or "pre-hang" is a lighting/rigging session – the time when the lighting equipment is hung for a specific performance.

ORCHESTRA

Seating area consisting of the entire downstairs at The Colonial Theatre.

PIT

Short for ORCHESTRA PIT. The area housing the orchestra or band. Originally, a lower section between the front of the stage and the audience, although now describes any area around the stage housing the musicians. For select performances, the pit at The Colonial Theatre contains additional seating.

THRUST

Form of stage which projects into the auditorium beyond the proscenium. For select performances at The Colonial, the thrust is added to the stage, bringing the performers and the audiences even closer together.

UPSTAGE

The part of the stage furthest from the audience.

WINGS

The out of view areas to the sides of the acting area.

FRESNEL

(pronounced 'Fre-nell') A type of stage light which produces an even, soft-edged beam of light through a Fresnel lens. The lens is a series of stepped concentric circles on the front and pebbled on the back and is named after its French inventor, Augustin Jean Fresnel (1788-1827). He developed the lens for French lighthouses so that they could be seen further out to sea and could achieve a longer focal length with a lot less glass than a standard plano-convex lens.

GHOST LIGHT

A light left burning overnight on stage to keep friendly spirits illuminated and unfriendly spirits at bay. Also believed to keep the theatrical muse in a 'dark' theatre, and to stop people tripping over bits of scenery when they come into the theatre in the morning.

RIDER/TECHNICAL RIDER

Information sent to a venue by a touring group detailing lighting, sound, staging and dressing room requirements. Ideally arrives before the performer!!

SIGHT LINES

A series of lines drawn on plan and section to show how much of the stage can be seen by the extreme seating positions in the auditorium. Often marked in the wings as a guide to the actors and crew.
